SECTION III – WRITING - 20 points

1. Task Achievement & Content - 5 points

5 points: Excellent. Fully answers all three requirements (tells about self, introducing family, describes school, and mentions hobbies) with engaging details.

4 points: Good. Mentions all four parts, but one section lacks detail or is overly brief.

3 points: Satisfactory. Addresses only two of the three required topics clearly, or touches upon all three very vaguely

2 points: Poor. Addresses only one topic completely while ignoring the others.

1-0 points: Unacceptable. Fails to meet the prompt requirements or the text is completely off-topic.

2. Organization & Format - 5 Points

5 points: Perfect informal email structure. Includes an appropriate greeting (e.g., "Hi Alex,"), a brief opening, logical paragraphs, a future-looking transition (e.g., "Write back soon!"), and a friendly sign-off (e.g., "Best wishes, [Name]").

4 points: Good paragraph structure and flow, but missing a standard email opener or closer.

3 points: Ideas are readable but written in a single block of text without proper paragraph breaks.

2 points: Fragmented sentences with poor transitions; looks like a list of facts rather than an email.

1-0 points: Disorganized, chaotic, or completely lacks paragraphing and basic email etiquette.

3. Vocabulary & Range - 5 Points

5 points: Rich and varied. Accurate use of adjectives (e.g., modern, dedicated, fascinating) and appropriate informal idioms.

4 points: Mostly accurate vocabulary choices with minor repetitions (e.g., repeating the word "good" or "nice" multiple times).

3 points: Uses basic vocabulary suitable for lower proficiency levels. Occasional incorrect word choices that require reader effort to understand.

2 points: Severely limited vocabulary. Frequent errors impede the meaning of the letter.

1-0 points: Vocabulary is insufficient to communicate basic details about family or school.

4. Grammar & Accuracy - 5 Points

5 points: High accuracy in essential structures like the Present Simple tense, subject-verb agreement, and basic word order. Minimal spelling or punctuation errors.

4 points: Good grammatical control. A few minor slips occur, but errors do not block meaning.

3 points: Noticeable errors in verb tenses or sentence structure, but the core meaning of the message remains clear.

2 points: Frequent grammatical mistakes make reading difficult and slow down comprehension.

1-0 points: Errors are so dense that the text is nearly impossible to deco

♦Spelling: - 0, 05 points for each spelling mistake

♦Grammar: - 0,10 points for each grammar mistake

Note: Repeated mistakes will be penalized only once.

BONUS POINTS: 10 points
